

Coffee Chat: What Do Frontline Manufacturing Workers Really Want? With Cara Plus

written by Lauri Moon | October 5, 2022

On October 12th, we will feature Sara Wasserteil, Managing Director of Cara Plus and co-author of the recent report published by McKinsey: Bridging the Advancement Gap: What Frontline Employees Want - and Employers Think They Want.

During the session, Sara will dig into:

- what frontline employees prioritize when it comes to upward mobility (and what employers get wrong)
- what is happening when they are advancing (and what's missing when they aren't)
- what employers can do to fill the gap.

During the session, she'll focus specifically on findings in manufacturing industries to uncover trends and uplift opportunities around advancing frontline talent in manufacturing. You can find the full report, along with the executive summary here.

Register