

FLSA Overtime Changes: What Every Business Needs to Know

written by Lauri Moon | June 28, 2016

New overtime rules affecting millions of American workers are slated to take effect later this year. The rules more than double the minimum salary threshold for employees to qualify as exempt for overtime - from $23,660/year to over $47,000. In this webinar, Keystone Payroll will go over the key steps you should take now to implement these new changes and will examine best practices on how to communicate them to your affected employees.

Once you register, the webinar link will be provided.
