

Food Packaging & Design Development

written by Lauri Moon | January 6, 2020

This free webinar covers some of the basics that you will need for getting your food product packaging started and examples of scale up projects.

If you're asking yourself these questions, this webinar is for you:

- I have a food product or an idea for a food product, what kind of packaging development and design is required?
- Where do I start?
- What is required on the primary packaging?
- Is food packaging different from other packaging?
- What kinds of packaging materials should I consider?

This webinar has been brought to you by the tri-state food manufacturing collaborative which consists of Impact Washington, Idaho TechHelp and Montana Manufacturing Extension Center, members of the Manufacturing Extension Partnership National Network, or MEP National Network™. IMC is your Central Pennsylvania Manufacturing Extension Partnership Center.
