

Food Safety Modernization Act - The Time is Now!

written by Lauri Moon | March 7, 2016

The FDA's Food Safety Modernization Act (FSMA), which was signed into law in 2011 will dramatically change the way facilities manufacturing, handling or packaging food do business. Many companies have a short 12-18 months to understand and comply with the rules.

5 of the 7 FSMA rules have already been published! This means the compliance timeline has started. Come September 2016, FDA Inspectors will start knocking on doors to assess a company's compliance with the regulations. Are you ready?

This workshop will explain the content of the Food Safety Modernization Act and focus on the key requirements of the 5 already proposed rules including:

- Preventive controls for human and animal food
- Produce safety rule
- Foreign supplier verification program
- Accredited third-party certification

We will also cover how GFSI certifications such as SQF, FSSC 22000 and BRC go together with the FSMA rules.

Compliance Deadlines vary depending upon the size of your business between September 2016 and September 2018.

The FDA Food Safety Modernization Act (FSMA), signed into law by President Obama on Jan. 4, enables FDA to better protect public health by strengthening the food safety system. It enables FDA to focus more on preventing food safety problems rather than relying primarily on reacting to problems after they occur. The law also provides FDA with new enforcement authorities designed to achieve higher rates of compliance with prevention- and risk-based food safety standards and to better respond to and contain problems when they do occur. The law also gives FDA important new tools to hold imported foods to the same standards as domestic foods and directs FDA to build an integrated national food safety system in partnership with state and local authorities.
