

Information Technology Security and the Manufacturer

written by Lauri Moon | September 21, 2016

Managing security is all about protecting the bottom line. Join PennTAP Advanced IT as they take you through assessing your most important assets – people, data, software, hardware and more. They will help you understand the important security aspects that manufacturers need to be aware of and basic protection of these important assets. This Webinar presents the fundamentals of what to protect and how to easily begin safeguarding them.

Presented by Don LeGoullon, PennTAP Senior Technical Advisor.
