

InfraGard Security Symposium

written by admin | March 13, 2015

The Center for Strategic and International Studies published a report concluding that hacking costs the overall U.S. economy as much as $10 billion each year and the loss of up to 500,000 jobs. U.S. companies spend millions of dollars securing their networks, buying insurance and repairing their reputations after getting hacked.

In total, more than 1,200 people outside of Iraq and Syria have been killed in attacks inspired or coordinated by the Islamic State, according to a New York Times analysis.

These numbers underscore the importance of both cyber and physical security in our world. Security is EVERYONE'S business

Join us for this enlightening event. Meet and network with security professionals ready to share their knowledge and experience with you.

Physical Security:

- Monte Morgan, Williams Company - Gas Pipeline Security
