

Marketing for Manufacturers: Planning for Success and Sales

written by Lauri Moon | April 10, 2019

Effective marketing for your manufacturing business begins with a plan. Tune in to this webinar to get a handle on key strategies that your team needs to differentiate your brand and establish an effective web presence. These are the initial steps in your marketing game plan that will help you illustrate your value and get your customers taking a step toward your ultimate goal—sales.

AGENDA

Introduction

10:00AM-10:05AM

Steve Melito, Matching Specialist • FuzeHub

Steve Melito will kick off this FuzeHub-powered webinar. You'll walk away with actionable ideas and best practices that will drive real results for your business. Steve will facilitate the Q&A Session to follow presentations by James Soto and Kim Lloyd.

Part I: Branding Strategy Session

10:05AM-10:25AM

James Soto, CEO • Industrial Strength Marketing

Hear from James Soto, CEO of Industrial Strength Marketing on how to kick-start a framework for building your brand—who you are and why you are the best at what you do. We'll help you set goals, differentiate yourself, and communicate your vision and value to customers.

Part II: Growing Your Web Presence

10:25AM-10:45AM

Kim Lloyd, Special Projects Director • FuzeHub

You're not alone—establishing and maintaining an effective web presence is a challenge for all businesses, let alone manufacturers. Kim Lloyd, a web developer and strategist, will give you a tour of the ins and outs of getting started (or optimizing) your web presence. You will learn about a range of tools that will help you market yourself effectively, grow interest in your company, and sell to customers.

Register