

Navigate the Complexities of Supply Chain Management

written by Lauri Moon | August 4, 2020

With the challenges today and the uncertainty of Supply Chain continuity organizations need to examine all aspects of their program. This webinar is a high level introduction to some of the current issues manufacturers are facing and how to mitigate some of that risk. Following our three-step process, companies can navigate the complexities of supply chain management. Each step of the way, we will develop tools that fit your company and situation best. At the end of the day, these custom solutions are targeted to reduce risk exposure, defects, costs, and lead times.

Benefits of Attending

- Learn how to mitigate risks
- Learn a three-step process how companies can navigate the complexities of supply chain
- Learn how to develop tools that fit your company
- Information that prepares you for future disruptions

Once you register, you will receive the information to join the virtual event.

Register