

Penn State University Engagement Opportunities for the Plastics Industry

written by Lauri Moon | March 3, 2022

Faculty and staff from Penn State Behrend, home of the largest academic plastics training lab in the nation, will share information about cutting edge research, state-of-the-art facilities, academic programming, continuing education for plastics workers, and industry/university partnership opportunities. PennTAP will also share success stories of previous technical assistance partnerships with plastics companies.

Register

