

Take Control of Your Energy Costs

written by Lauri Moon | June 8, 2023

Join APPI Energy for this 30-minute update on what's happening in the energy markets, what to expect in the coming months, and key strategies and solutions for taking control of energy costs at your organization.

Expect to learn:

- What's driving electricity and natural gas prices, both at a macro and micro level
- Procurement strategies that best align with the current market conditions
- Energy solutions and technologies designed to reduce energy usage and generate value
- How to take a holistic, comprehensive approach to energy management in order to minimize budgetary risk

Dan Forgacs, Vice President of Market Intelligence & Analytics at APPI Energy, will lead the webinar, which will include ample time for Q&A.
