The Heavy Lift of CMMC – Documentation

written by Lauri Moon | January 9, 2023

To successfully pass a CMMC assessment, you'll not only need to have the right technologies and follow the right processes, but you'll have to show your compliance through documentation. The CMMC assessors have been trained that "if it's not documented, it doesn't exist". Proper documentation will be one of the major focuses during your CMMC assessment.

In addition to a System Security Plan (SSP), you'll also need to have policies, diagrams and numerous evidence artifacts to show during your assessment. In this webinar, we'll lay out a plan to properly document your CMMC program including:

- What specific documents need to be developed to meet CMMC requirements?
- What is a Plan of Action and Milestones (POAM) and how should it be used?
- How many policies and procedures are needed?
- How should policies be organized and what topics must be included?
- How should CMMC documentation be controlled and how often should they be updated?

Join IMC and our third-party partner Core Business Solutions as we look through the various documents that need to be put in place to successfully pass a CMMC assessment.
