

Webinar: Managing Demographic Change - Risks & Opportunities for Industry

written by Lauri Moon | April 23, 2018

As a generation of workers retire, companies are struggling to capture and transfer their knowledge and experience. Additionally, many have had challenges integrating the new generation of workers, both from a cultural and risk awareness standpoint.

What can companies do to retain critically important institutional knowledge among older workers about to retire and pass it along to current and new employees to reduce the organization's risk exposure and improve performance? What processes and systems need to be modified to capture the attention of this new group of employees?

During this webinar, the speakers will discuss the greatest challenges their clients are faced with and the opportunities related to demographic change and share four critical components to managing this change.
