Gearing Up for Business Abroad

written by Lauri Moon | May 31, 2019

Most international business activities revolve around one of the five basic transactions: (1) the direct sales contract for goods and/or services; (2) contracts involving agents and distributors overseas; (3) the international joint venture; (4) the wholly-owned foreign subsidiary; and (5) licensing and transferring intellectual property and technology.

To avoid problems, a business must understand the advantages and pitfalls of each. This webinar will cover seven modules to help you understand these transactions.

- Module One - Understanding the Five Basic International Business Transactions
- Module Two - Financial Considerations for Overseas Operations
- Module Three - Negotiating & Drafting International Agency and Distribution Agreements
- Module Four - Drafting an Arbitration Clause for International Contracts: Do's & Dont's
- Module Five - The United National Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods
- Module Six - Overview of FCPA and International Anti-corruption Laws
- Module Seven - What you need to know about U.S. Antiboycott Laws

Seminar presented by Dennis Unkovich of Meyer, Unkovic & Scott LLP, Pittsburg, PA.

Webinar: Determining the Correct ECCN or ITAR Category of Your Commodity, Technology or Software

written by Lauri Moon | May 31, 2019

Determining proper classification of an export has always been an important part of export compliance. This includes classification under the Harmonized System as well as export control classification.

If the transaction falls under the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) or The International Traffic in Arms Regulations (ITAR) determining the proper ECCN or USML Category is the responsibility of the Exporter/Seller who may also be the USPPI.

Misclassification can lead to seizure of goods, fines, penalties and even in severe cases loss of export privileges or imprisonment.

The combination of expanded enforcement efforts and recent changes under Export Control Reform has increased the importance and complexity of classification.

Learn what has changed, how to setup an effective classification process and how to keep your company compliant.
