

Webinar: Future-proof Your Workforce

written by Lauri Moon | October 9, 2018

The National Association of Manufacturers estimates that manufacturers have 365,000 unfilled jobs now and will need to fill 3.5 million jobs in the next 7 years. In addition to traditional assembly line jobs, the manufacturing industry is moving rapidly toward jobs with irreplaceable human skills, such as creativity, ingenuity, and critical thinking.

To stay competitive, manufacturers need to quickly accommodate the new expectations of this shifting workplace environment. New job opportunities bring new ways of working. Your current and future employees require an expanded toolset to be productive contributors as soon as they step in the door and advance within your organization.

Successful manufacturers have found ways to increase productivity while proving they are exciting, innovative, and rewarding places to work. Join this webinar for a discussion that will help you future-proof your workforce and:

- Understand the impact that the changing workforce is having on manufacturers today.
- Learn how to maximize productivity amongst your employees and use your existing workforce to its fullest potential.
- Identify how technology can play an integral role in the recruiting, retaining, and effective scheduling of the new generation of workers.
