I can't say enough positive things about The Learning Factory, and I am thankful for the connection that IMC so proactively made. Lumax received an excellent design and prototype, and we hope that we provided the students with a meaningful, empowering experience as they embark on their careers. I'd recommend this sort of collaboration to any of my professional colleagues.

G&M Bandsaw, Inc.

This project has really taken the whole idea of adding a retail store to our manufacturing business and launched it in such a fast and efficient manner. IMC has been there right alongside us, supporting us, the whole time.

Pik Rite, Inc.

The Lean Cert Users group has been great for our area. The networking and input has tremendous impact. IMC does a great job getting the discussion going on what's working and what's not. Every time I hear other companies working through their Lean journey, I pick up on another Lean idea.

Lewis Lumber Products, Inc.

The IMC group is always in contact with us regarding new training and events that will help us improve our business. They are a valuable asset to our company's continued growth and lean activities for process improvement. I recommend their services to local industries when questioned about our companies success.

TRS Technologies
